Mee Derby Expands Presence in Southeast to Meet Demand

BETHESDA, Maryland – March 5, 2007 – Executive Search firm Mee Derby & Company announces a renewed focus in the Southeast with the return from sabbatical of Staffing Industry veteran Jill Balick. Balick will expand Mee Derby's presence in the Carolinas, Florida, Georgia, Tennessee and Virginia.

"Jill brings significant industry intelligence and new networking channels to our client companies," says Robin Mee, President and Founder Mee Derby. "We are growing in the southeast to meet the demand for our recruiting services – job orders are signed daily – and we are finding many top quality candidates in the region."

Jill Balick brings over 25 years of staffing industry experience to Mee Derby. Prior to joining Mee Derby in 1994, Balick held an Area Management role for Olsten Corporation in New York. Her work experience includes recruitment and management in professional services, temporary staffing, permanent placement and corporate arenas. Balick is a graduate of Colgate University.

"I am thrilled to back at Mee Derby, a company I have watched grow from just Robin Mee in 1988 to a respected national leader in search and recruiting jobs today," says Balick. "Few executive search firms can match Mee Derby's integrity, honesty, professionalism and search technology."
